

Frequently Asked Questions about Journal of Thought

How long does it take for a manuscript to be published after it is accepted for publication?

The time frame for publication after a manuscript has been accepted varies depending upon a variety of variables. For example, thematic and guest editor issues are often published at a slower pace than are non-thematic issues. Generally, however, manuscripts are published within twelve months after the time an author is notified that her or his manuscript has been accepted for publication.

May an article that was initially not accepted be submitted to the journal again after revisions?

Yes, however it is recommended that authors do not resubmit manuscripts if the reviewers' feedback indicates that the research is inappropriate for the Journal of Thought and its readership.

Can an article that has already been published, but that has been updated, be considered for publication?

Ordinarily, no. Conversely, studies that are based upon prior research but which are substantively different in a current article draft are welcomed. To be substantively different, the current research study must be significantly different in methodology, findings, and/or conclusions.

How can I get a back issue of the Journal of Thought?

Please contact Caddo Gap Press. See Subscription Information on page 144 for details.
